Massachusetts Department of Transitional Assistance

Town of North Andover
120 Main St.
North Andover, MA, 01845

November 24, 2014

The Department of Transitional Assistance's mission is to provide a bridge to stability that helps eligible low-income families to meet their needs during difficult times. DTA serves 1 in 8 Massachusetts residents.

As part of an effort to provide the best possible services to our clients, the Department is pleased to announce a partnership with eleven educational and cultural institutions across the Commonwealth offering DTA clients free or reduced admission by simply showing their EBT card at the ticket counter. This partnership enables our clients to take advantage of all they have to offer.

The partnership program has been met with a positive response from the Department's clients thus far and it is something that we are thrilled to be able to offer. My hope is to increase awareness of the program so that more low-income families can take advantage of these enrichment experiences. Please share this information widely to help spread the word.

Your support is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Stacey Monahan
Commissioner

Cultural Partnerships: Frequently Asked Questions

Q: How does it work?

When you arrive at the museum, you should show your EBT card at the ticket counter and you will receive a discounted admission price.

Q: How many people can I bring with me to the museum?

The number of people that can receive discounted admission to a museum using the same EBT card varies by institution. This information can be found on our Partnerships Flyer at www.mass.gov/dta or you can always call the museum directly to ask them about their admission policies.

Q: If I am taking my child to the museum and they want to bring their friend, can I still receive the EBT-discounted admission?

Yes. You can use your EBT card for admission regardless of whether or not the people that you are bringing with you are members of your household.

Q: Can I only receive the discounted admission on a certain day of the week?

You can use your EBT card for admission any day of the week.

Q: How many times can I attend the museum with the EBT discount?

There is no limit to the number of times that you can use your EBT card, so feel free to use it often!

Q: How much will admission cost with my EBT discount?

The EBT admission prices vary by institution, but none are higher than $3 per person. The specific prices can be found on our Partnerships Flyer at www.mass.gov/dta or you can always call the museum directly to ask them about their admission policies.
